one Republican meeting Thursday night and two last night, and Ezra didn't show up ut any of them.

One of last night's meetings was in the same block in which Mr. Thompson lives, but he never showed his face to the faithful. It was reported their he was sulking in his tent because Chairman Eachnor had told him that he must on no account attempt to make another speech just yet.

There are good and sufficient reasons for Dennis' action. Mr. Thompson has made just two speeches since the campaign opened. Neither exceeded twenty words in length, but the storm bureau candidate succeeded in putting his foot in it on both occasions. Had he been allowed to go on, the committee feared he might become a fruifful source of laughter to an irreverent populace.

Another rumor which was passed around last night was that Ezra was going into temporary retirement until the meeting in the Theaire next week. In the meanwhile John P. Meakin, the well known insummia expert, will come to Salt Lake and coach him. Under the well known insummia expert, will come to Salt Lake and coach him. Under the well known insummia expert, will come in free or welling to study hard form of Dennis' spelininders will only write out a twenty-word speech for him. He thinks that by diligent effort he sould learn k all by heart before the raily of next week, and that with a prompter in the wisks to encourage him he could do the whole thing with but one or two mistakes.

year, is apparent to anyone who is sufficiently interested in the matter to take a look at the figures from the last election. The returns show that the Democrats curried every precipict in the city, even including the Fifth, where the Republicans are claiming they will have a majority of nearly 1,600.

The highest majority received by any condidate on the Democratic ticket in the city was J. C. Jensen, who ran 1,285 vetes ahead of L. M. Earl, his Republican opponent. John F. Howells received the lowest plurality in the city, 1,370, but his case can hardly be taken as a test because a Democratic fight was made on him, led by T. P. Lewis, the former sheriff, who was besten in the convention for a second contact of Barney B. Quinn for assessor, as Mr. Quinn received the next lowest. ma Mir. Quinn received the next lowest majority to Sheriff Howells. At that he Quinn carried the city, including dances and a-cakewalk.

It will be seen therefore that the rec-ord shows that the Democrats all car-ried the city, both highest and lowest, in point of plurality, getting more votes in every procinct than their Hepublican competitors. with unla wful cohabitation, had a pre-liminary examination before Justice Gustave Kroeger vesterday, and the case was taken under advisement un-til Monday at 2 o'clock Assistant County Attorney Gunter conducted the case for the county, and Judge W. H. King appeared for the defense. Mrs. Sarah Potter, or Graham, with whom the offense is alleged to have been committed in this county, was not present, and the important testimony which she probably would have been able to give was lacking. Subpocens which she probably would have been able to give was lacking. Subpoents had been issued for her and for Mrs. Elisworth, another woman who is supposed to have important information. Neither of them could be faund, however, although the constable made a long and weary search for them.

Father's Statement.

The most interesting testimony brought forth at the examination was the statement of Amesa Fouter, father of Mis. Sarah Potter, that he knew that his daughter kept children in her house, but that he didz't know they were his daughter's children.

"Have you seen her with a baby?"
Prosecutor Gunter asked.

"Yes, several times, About two weeks ago I was at her house and saw a baby there. I didn't know it was hers, though."

though."
Mr. Potter also testified that his daughter left Payson a week ago, but didn't know where she had gone. He said that he didn't know anything about "the Graham part of it" about 'the Graham part of it'

The examination began at a little before it o'clock in the morning Judge King, for the defense, asked that he be allowed to withdraw the original plea of not guilty, because he did not believe that a justice's court had original jurisdiction over a case of unlawful cohabitation. This point was soon settled by Justice Kroeger, who ruled that a justice's court does have jurisdiction over the offense charged, as it has over fornication, the offenses be-herself. She was excused.

Judge John E. Booth said that he had known John C. Graham for twenty-five years. Mr. Gunter asked him if Mr. Graham is living in Provo with his family at the present time, and Judge Booth resided that he has a place there, and also a wife and children.
